NOTE: Continuing Education courses are designed for professional development and do not normally count toward an academic degree.

1. Educational Goals for the Course: Teachers who already have students with mild to moderate learning disabilities or who teach (or will be teaching) severely disabled students will find this course helpful. Each lesson addresses some of the most common concerns that educators have about teaching students with disabilities—concerns about the effectiveness of inclusion, anxiety about not having enough time or enough training, and fear about the potential disruption to their class.

2. Instructional Learning Objectives:
Participants will:
- Understand what inclusion means.
- Learn the history of inclusion as it relates to the law.
- Learn what it takes to make inclusion successful.

3. Course Requirements: This course is available only to those who have registered with and purchased the course from ASCD (www.ascd.org, then select PD Online Courses)
Participants will be required to:
- Complete all lessons.
- Submit a reflection paper, detailing what was learned and how the knowledge will be applied.
- Submit reflection paper in a Word document attachment to:
