Course Title: EI: The Danielson Framework: Real Classrooms

Course Prerequisites: Degree / Idaho School District Registration with Educational Impact (www.educationalimpact.com)

Instructor: Continuing Education Credit(s): 1 Total Cost for Credit: $60.00

NOTE: Continuing Education courses are designed for professional development and do not normally count toward an academic degree.

1. Educational Goals for the Course:

- Educators will watch and study Charlotte Danielson's online video presentations and narrations of her Framework for Teaching concepts in a video-based online study. The Framework for Teaching is a research-based set of components of instruction, aligned to INTASC standards.
- Educators will study the core content of the course program which features real classroom observations from various grade levels and subjects. During the classroom observations, Danielson critiques the instructional strategies shown in the video and explains how they relate to components of the Framework. Teachers have an opportunity to see firsthand how to properly implement the framework components in their classrooms.
- In this course, Danielson highlights the components of Domain 1 and Domain 3. Packed with 106 real classroom examples, this program features powerful observations from various grade levels and subjects. During the classroom observations, users have the opportunity to listen as Charlotte critiques the instructional strategies shown in each video - then explains how they relate to the components of the Framework. Participants will collaborate with peers, and share their knowledge and experience within their schools or districts. Educators will collaborate with peers, and share their knowledge and work at www.educationalimpact.com (self-directed) with an additional 38 hours of research, collaborative meetings, and written work.
- The Framework instructional concepts may be used as the foundation of a school or district's mentoring, coaching, professional development, and teacher evaluation processes.

2. Instructional Learning Objectives – Educators will:

(What will participants learn and put into practice as a result of completing this process?)

- Watch and study the online course segments of Charlotte Danielson and the online video outtakes of actual classroom teaching instruction to learn.
- Understand the concepts within the four domains of teaching responsibility: planning and preparation (Domain 1), classroom environment (Domain 2), instruction (Domain 3), and professional responsibilities (Domain 4).
- Research Danielson's Teaching Framework and read online references and materials.
- Create two examples of how they incorporated the new concepts gleaned from Danielson's Teaching Framework components into their classroom environment (these may be written examples or presentation examples).

3. Course Requirements – Educators will:

- Watch and study the online course segments of Charlotte Danielson's Teaching Framework: Looking at Real Classrooms and the online video outtakes of actual classroom teaching practices.
- Complete all course assignments, activities, and the final course assessment at www.educationalimpact.com.
- Collaborate with class colleagues on how the information gained can be implemented into their instruction in accordance with state standards and individual school goals. Identify specific goals and desired outcomes.
- Research and read additional materials.
- Plan and implement the appropriate components into individual classroom environments.
- Continue collegial collaboration reviewing successes and possible modifications.
- Maintain provided collaboration study log documenting a minimum of 38 hours of collaboration and individual study beyond the video training.
- Submit their collaboration log complete with summary of reading, research, lesson planning, implementation, collaboration and results of implementation to the approved NNU adjunct course instructor.

4. Dates, Times and Location of Proposed Course:

(1 Semester Credit Equals 15 Professor Contact Hours plus an additional 30 Hours outside Work)

TBD between (dates) online assignments, readings, assessments, and written work to equal the 45 hours of necessary course work for one graduate level professional development credit.
